CONSTITUTION AND JOB

From Yesterday's Evening Edition.

ATLANTA, AUGUST 8, 1873.

Summary of State News.

ATHENS.

On Saturday last Dr. T. J. Hutcheson addressed the people of Winterville on the subject of organizing a Grange. Twenty-four names were received, and much enthusiasm prevailed.——The Agricultural Convention meets in Athens next week.——Mr. William Cowan, long a resident of Jackson county, and a highly respectable citizen, died at the residence of Mrs. Orr, on Tuesday, the 29th instant.——A squad of Federal soldiers has been ordered to Jackson county, in consequence of the killing of Robert Holliday, some weeks ago, while resisting arrest by lawful authority.——The work on the Northeastern Railroad is progressing rapidly. The hands are now eight miles beyond Harmony Grove, about twenty-six miles from Athens. Southern Watchman.

MILLEDGEVILLE.

The Conference of the Colored Methodist Churches embraced in the Macon District will be held in Milledgeville on the 26th, 27th, and 28th of September next.——The Baldwin Grange held a meeting on Monday last and initiated members. Hereafter the meetings will be held every Wednesday in the Representative Hall.—Union and Recorder.

AUGUSTA.

In the recent base ball match between the Jasper Green and Fountain City Base Ball clubs the former were victors by a score of 40 to 39.——The funeral of Mr. Robert Campbell took place on Tuesday and was largely attended.——On Tuesday afternoon Alexander Greer, a prominent colored man of Augusta, was buried at the colored cemetery. At his death he was President of a colored female society, which, with four other organizations, attended his funeral in a body.—Constitutionalist.

The Augusta darkies occasionally relieve the monotony of their usual avocations by swapping off mules, which they had previously borrowed for a small pecuniary consideration. It is remarkable how rapidly an enterprising nigger can make money in this business, due caution being of course observed with reference to the chain gang.

Vegetables are so scarce in Augusta that the soup at the boarding houses has turned transparent, and become very popular for starch.

COLUMBUS.

Columbus was visited with a heavy rain on Tuesday evening, and many of the darkies will not need washing for a week.——The colored pastors of Columbus get from $700 to $1,200 a year for their edifying discourses.——A meeting of citizens took place on Tuesday at the office of C. H. Williams for the purpose of organizing a Grange. Col. George W. Adams, the Deputy Grand Secretary for this district, made an able address.——Mrs. T. N. Camak died in Griffin on Tuesday morning, and her remains will be brought to Columbus for interment. She was the daughter of Colonel Thomas Ragland, who, for so many years was the proprietor of the Enquirer.——Mr. C. J. McNulty, charged with embezzlement from the Singer Sewing Machine agency at Tuskegee, Alabama, and who was released from custody on a writ of habeas corpus on Monday, has been again arrested, and will be carried to Montgomery for trial.—Sun.

The hog market was out on the streets yesterday, and the amount of grunting done was something prodigious. The Columbus hogs are obstinate. It takes four policemen and three niggers to manage one, when he don't want to be managed.

LAWRENCEVILLE.

There has been a revival going on at Chestnut Grove Baptist Church near here for about ten days, and the church has received a considerable number of accessions.——One of Mr. Robert Craig's mules was the victim of a mysterious disappearance last Sunday. After an anxious search by the heart-broken owner, it was discovered that the mule had fallen into a dry well, where he was found in a state of pensive reflection and immediately hoisted out.—Gwinnett Herald.

Colored preachers should not try to turn barbecues into revivals. Hunter attempted it the other day in Jackson county, when one of the numerous sinners, Jones Shields, by name, being moved thereto by the spirit, reached for the reverend gentleman with his little pistol in one hand and his little knife in the other. The immediate result of the reaching were a ruined beaver and a small pile of black stripes which had once been a coat, intermixed here and there with a slice of pretty tough hide. The fact that Shields is being entertained at the expense of the county has not as yet restored the preacher's coat or patched his skin.

MACON.

The city is planting a new sewer on Pine street, between First and Second, but not sooner than needed.——A good deal of rain fell in Macon Tuesday night.——The street railroad is improving its turn-out at the City Hall, in order to have less delay.——On Friday afternoon, as the train on the Southwestern Railroad was coming in, it encountered a heavy thunder storm a few miles from Macon. The lightning struck the railroad track, melted the telegraph wire, and shocked the passengers in the train.——The Finance Committee of the City Council reported Tuesday night adversely upon the petition asked for an appropriation to aid in completing the new Jewish Synagogue.——The counting room of Brown & Co. was burglarized Tuesday night and an amount of money taken from the cash drawer. The thieves, two negro boys, have been caught and $54 50 recovered.——A negro boy, son of Lewis Griggs, stole all of his father's money, some $94, last Saturday, and eloped.—Telegraph and Messenger.

SAVANNAH.

Mr. W. G. York, concerning whose treatment of his little son articles have appeared in all the Savannah papers, and much public comment made, has commenced suits of $10,000 each against the proprietors of the Advertiser and Republican, the Morning News, Mayor Anderson and Aldermen Arnold and Douglas.—Advertiser and Republican.

A New Hundred Thousand Dollar Donation to Gen. Grant.

From the Allentown Democrat.]

A movement was started a short time ago to raise $100,000 for Gen. Grant by private subscription, it being understood that he would, upon the receipt of that sum, refund his extra salary, repudiate the salary bill, and co-operate with the clique that proposes to endeavor to deodorize the Republican party by organizing the House next winter without giving the Chairmanship of any committee to Butler or to any of the Credit Mobilier men. But thus far little has been subscribed toward the Grant fund, and those engaged in raising it have met with so many refusals that the project has been practically abandoned.

The Republican nominations at Lynchburg, Va., last week, do not seem to disheart-en the Conservatives of that State in the east. The Richmond Enquirer says, "the Conservative majority in the State is over whelming," and says that the party will win by from 10,000 to 20,000, if needless dissensions are avoided and good men are put in nomination.

Mary Hendley, widely known now as the female detective, realized $9,500 from her capture of the old fiend Kate Stoddard.

The Kentucky giantess, with Bailey's circus, has been painfully hurt, in Wisconsin, by being upset in her carriage.

POLITICAL.

The Virginia Democrats Nominate Kemper.

The Ohio Democrats Nominate Allen.

The Wisconsin Germans Blaze at Existing Political Abuses.

RICHMOND, 2 A. M., August 7.—After the merits of the two candidates had been discussed at length and no other nominations being made, the roll of counties was called and resulted in a large majority for General Kemper, which was greatly increased by delegations changing their votes solidly from Withers to Kemper.

Before the announcement of the vote Gen. Early moved that the nomination of Gen. Jas. L. Kemper be made unanimous. [Great applause.] The convention adjourned till 10 A. M.

OHIO.

COLUMBUS, August 7.

Senator Thurman made a brief speech, predicting the success of the clear Democratic ticket.

Mr. Allen, in a dispatch accepting the nomination, says: "I accept the nomination and desire the convention to accept my gratitude for it. I accept because the convention, by bestowing it, expresses the belief that I may be of some service in promoting the success of the great Democracy, upon whose success, and upon that alone, rests the prosperity, liberty and happiness of the American people."

(Signed) WM. ALLEN.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, August 7.—The German State Convention is in session here.

They have adopted resolutions denouncing all sumptuary laws advocating free trade, and deprecating corruption in government officials. While they deplore the habit of excessive drinking they oppose all laws interfering with the inherent rights guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States.

The Danburian.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY GRAPHIC, New York, July 22, 1873.

James M. Bailey, Danbury News:

DEAR SIR.—Would you like to accompany our Transatlantic Balloon Expedition on the 20th of August next? We cordially give you an invitation. Think of the "News" possibilities of this momentous enterprise. Should an explosion occur in mid-ocean, you will undoubtedly have enjoyed the finest "situation" for suggesting a Danbury News paragraph that ever occurred in the course of your life. Yours, very truly,

MANAGERS OF THE GRAPHIC.

REPLY.

DANBURY, CONN., July 28, 1873.

To the Managers of the Daily Graphic:

GENTLEMEN—I acknowledge the receipt of an invitation from your office to be one of the party to make the trip across the Atlantic in the Daily Graphic balloon. The item in the letter which suggests the possibility of an explosion in mid-air and ocean, with the certainty of material for an excellent paragraph for the News in case the explosion takes place, rather dampens the ardor I felt arising on commencing your note. That may not be the effect you contemplated, but such is the result on the whole. I think I shall have to decline the invitation. I feel just as enthusiastic in the enterprise as any one can, but I can control and manage my enthusiasm to better advantage if I am standing on something hard. Besides, it makes me sea sick, to cross the ocean, I become so excited and reckless that I squander away anything that is handy in my possession, and would be just as likely to throw away something valuable as not. In that case, I should like to be where I can recover it. This is natural to us all, I think.

I do not wish to be understood as having any fear in the matter. I am not afraid of a balloon. I would as lief ride in a balloon as in a street car, if it wasn't for getting cinders in my eyes. I am afraid of cinders. Yours truly,

J. M. BAILEY.

Alabama Items.

An effort is being made in Montgomery to re-inaugurate a Board of Trade.

John Young, a colored draymen, was in a dying condition Monday morning, with all the symptoms of cholera, at Eufaula.

Gen. A. M. Clayton, of Columbus, Miss., was elected President, Mr. H. DeBardelaboron, Superintendent, and Mr. J. J. Noble, Secretary and Treasurer, of the Red Mountain Iron and Coal Company at the recent election.

The bridge over the Tallapoosa River, on the line of the Savannah and Memphis Railroad, is progressing very slow, and the Head Light thinks, judging from the past, it would be safe to predict its completion, so that trains can pass over it, by this time next year.

The North Point Spectator says: Miss Gillam, the daughter of Mr. John Gillam, who resides in the northern part of Tuscaloosa county, was killed a few days ago, by the falling of the limb of a tree upon her. The unfortunate young lady was under the tree, with some children, and hearing the limb crack she sprang out of the way, but suddenly returned to pick up and save a small child, when the limb struck her down, causing death in a few minutes.

The Montgomery State Journal: "Coroner Parker yesterday held an inquest over the body of a small girl, about six years of age, named Mayfield Golding. The girl's mother died last spring, when she was left in the care of a stepfather, who subsequently gave her in charge to Matt. Shelby. This is the verdict of the corner's jury: That the child, Mayfield Golding, came to her death from disease brought on by starvation; and we believe her death was hastened by ill-treatment and whipping by Matt. Shelby."

The Mobile Register: Joseph Edmondson, who lives at the toll-house of the shell road, near Frascati, had retired for the night, and both he and his wife were quietly asleep in the toll-house, when a brutal and mysterious attempt to murder them was made about 2½ A. M. Unknown parties approached the house, and opening the window fired upon the sleeping man, discharging a load of buckshot into the bed. Three of the shots lodged in his shoulder; one of which was promptly extracted by Dr. D. E. Smith. The other two could not be found, and remained in the wounded man's flesh. There was no attempt, as far as appears, on the part of the ruffians to effect an entrance, and the mysterious affair, from present lights, seems to be the result either of revenge or simply of brutal malice.

Tennessee News.

One cholera death occurred in Knoxville, on Tuesday, and two more persons were prostrated by the disease.

The Knoxville Press and Herald of the 6th says: The intelligence from Jonesboro is unusually favorable. From Dr. A. J. Campbell, who returned to the city, yesterday, from Jonesboro, we learn that no deaths occurred on Monday night, and that when he left, on yesterday morning, no new cases had developed, and those who were afflicted with the disease had fair hopes of recovery. For several days past the disease had lost a large degree of its former virulent character, and yielded more readily to proper medical treatment. Only a few cases are left, which are of a mild nature. The town still bears a desolate appearance, but it is hoped that returning signs of health and life will soon be noticeable.

The cholera has appeared in Union county. Near Lloyd's X Roads, last Friday, the wife of Caswell Sharpe, and the wife of Thomas Romine, and a young man whose name we did not learn, died of the disease.

The Nashville Banner of the 6th gives further particulars of a bloody tragedy which took place at Overton's station on Monday afternoon: Wash Hopkins, colored, was in the employ of A. J. McKimmin, white, who is engaged in training horses at that place. It is said that Hopkins refused to do something which McKimmin requested should be done. An altercation ensued, in which McKimmin struck Hopkins with a stone. Hopkins then attacked McKimmin with a pitchfork and drove him before him for a short distance. McKimmin went home, got his shot gun, returned and asked Hopkins as to the whereabouts of his pitchfork, when Hopkins, jerking it up suddenly, remarked, "there it is," and immediately made a second attack on McKimmin, who, after an unsuccessful parley, shot Hopkins through the heart, when the latter fell dead. The Coroner's jury, as is already known, rendered a verdict that the killing was in self-defense.

One of the great dramatic events of the year will be the coming of Salvini, the distinguished Italian actor. Salvini's Othello is especially appreciated by Americans living in Italy.

A noble historic scene—the surrender of General Fillow to General Smith—is thus described by the Newark Advertiser: "Fillow came into Montgomery afoot and alone, sat down on a curb stone, and shook the gravel out of his rough army shoes, and then walked into Smith's office. To which Fillow responded: "No, and I havn't a dollar to pay for one."

A Minnesota correspondent tells the following: I have picked up a little story which I think too good a reproof for disturbers of the peace in churches to be lost. A presiding elder of the United Brethren Church was preaching in the same neighborhood, and was much annoyed by persons talking and laughing. He paused, looked at the disturbers, and said: "I am always afraid to reprove those who misbehave in church. In the early part of my ministry I made a great mistake. As I was preaching, a young man who sat just before me was laughing, talking, and making uncouth grimaces. I paused and administered a severe rebuke. After the close of the service, one of the official members came and said to me, "Brother ——, you made a great mistake. That young man whom you reproved is an idiot." Since then I have always been afraid to reprove those who misbehave in church, lest I should repeat that and reprove another idiot." During the rest of that service, at least, there was good order.

How They Come.

We are highly gratified to state that our mail on the Macon and Western Road has increased some one hundred dallies. We also received a club of dailies yesterday from another direction. As for weekly subscribers, we have never had such an in pouring since THE CONSTITUTION was established.

☞ The Democracy of the Fifth Congressional District of Ohio not only denounce the Congressional salary steal, but call upon their Democratic Representative of that district, who pocketed his portion of the grab, to resign his seat. They declare that he is not a fit man to represent Democrats in Congress.

☞ The army contractors and general plunderers are on a new scent, that promises to be a rich one if well worked. Its outcroppings are unmistakeable. One administration organ demands that there shall be no further trifling with Mexico, while the next paper is engaged in firing the American heart with baseless reports of Mexican incursions on American soil or of outrages on American citizens. The whole thing is too thin to deceive anybody. If Belknap and his associates are determined to have a war with Mexico, let them be about it, for they cannot arouse a public feeling to sustain them by such silly stories.

The Corner in Cotton.

All admit that the area planted this season is larger than ever before; but beyond this point there is a difference of opinion. The "bulls" say that the wet weather in the spring reduced the breadth to ordinary dimensions. The "bears" on the other hand say that the latest reports do not justify such estimates; that the present price of cotton is due to speculators, and not to apprehensions of a short crop. The New York Evening Post says, "the corner expires this month by its own limitations, and the efforts of those who are endeavoring to get out of it and come to a settlement are curious and instructive, and the condition of things in the cotton market is altogether anomalous."

The following table, from the best authority in London, will repay a careful perusal:

RECEIPTS OF COTTON IN LIVERPOOL.

Since September	2,337,000	2,651,000
American cotton on the way to Liverpool	115,000	49,000
East India to Liverpool	243,000	287,000
East India to London	94,000	51,000
	2,986,000	3,038,000

The supply in Liverpool is nearly one million of bales greater this year than last. With this fact before us, is it difficult to guess what will be the tendency of the market if there should be a reasonable prospect that the growing crop will reach 4,000,000 bales?

The Cholera in Chattanooga.

The dispatches last night inform us that the cholera has appeared in Chattanooga in acute violence, but its ravages are entirely confined to the negroes. The new outburst results from the use of unripe vegetables and melons. The Mayor has promptly prohibited the sale of everything calculated to cause the cholera.

We hope that this prompt action will effectually check the dread disease. Our own people will have to assume their caution.

Our Advertising Registers.

We send out one this morning upon THE CONSTITUTION engine, "Munroe," run by a fine young engineer. To-morrow we will send out another upon the "Asbury Hull." Neither of the registers is yet complete.

In this connection we beg to thank the citizens of several towns along the road for some kindly demonstrations of enthusiasm on the passing of our down engine yesterday.

The Reminiscences of Tom Comptons.

An addition to the previous announcement. We now have the pleasure of stating to our readers that Mr. E. S. Poe, of Macon, has been engaged to represent the interests of THE CONSTITUTION in that city. He is a young man of intelligence and energy, and will doubtless prove himself most efficient. He is authorized to transact all business in that city relative to subscriptions, and will also furnish THE CONSTITUTION with correspondence touching Macon local matters. Any suggestives or items of local public importance furnished him will be appreciated. He is already actively at work, and we need not commend him to our Macon friends and its people, because he is too well and favorably known. Office in Washington Block, on Mulberry street.

The Virginia Democracy.

In our telegraphic dispatches of last night will be found the interesting particulars of the full action of the Virginia Democracy.

It must be confessed that this action has been singularly sagacious. The contest for nomination for Governor was very bitter between Kemper and Withers. Complete harmony was gained and enthusiasm created by the nomination of one for Governor and the other for Lieutenant Governor.

The resolutions are short, adroit, sensible, and admirably drawn. They triumphantly point to the vindication of the past policy of the party in the prosperity of the State as contrasted with the condition of other Southern States under Radical rule. Expressing a proper spirit in regard to the ruling administration, and leaving no room for captious objection in regard to the rights of the negroes, paying a just tribute to the great cause of free education, they at the same time pledge the party to a liberal patriotic progressive cause.

The reference to their canal is very clever. Altogether, the convention has done its work wisely and well. Evidently a cool, judicious, clear-headed statesmanship has been in the ascendancy. Everything has been done to secure the harmony and enthusiasm of the party. And it must be confessed, also, that little has been left for successful attack at the hands of the Radicals.

We look for a vigorous and successful campaign by the Conservatives. Everything is auspicious for their victory, with anything like a fair count.

A Cotton Mill in Atlanta.

The cotton mills must come to the cotton, and thus save the large item of transportation attendant upon the moving of the raw material. It pays the mill proprietors, and it pays the cotton producers to bring them together. For instance, the mills of Columbus took this season 7,251 bales, which netted the producers seven hundred thousand dollars; and the mills then put the 7,251 bales into shapes that brought nearly two millions of dollars. This large difference accrues almost entirely to the people and producers of Columbus. It breeds other industries and other wealth here in Georgia, instead of Rhode Island or Massachusetts.

The cotton mills are coming to the cotton in several enterprising Southern towns. One can hardly look through a morning's papers of any State in the cotton belt without finding reports of some cotton-manufacturing enterprise. It seems to be conceded that the cotton fabrics of the future will be manufactured among the cotton fields. We can and will compel the New England manufacturers to either relinquish their mills in the North, or move them to the raw material. Is not Atlanta losing a golden opportunity in this matter? The cities all about us are becoming cotton-manufacturing points—Augusta, Nashville and Chattanooga, Columbus and Macon. Atlanta is in a cotton country—one that will produce an astonishing number of bales this year; it is a trade center; it is free from epidemics of all kinds, and offers to mechanics and to all mankind a pure invigorating air, pure freestone water, an equable moderate climate—in a word, health and opportunities. And yet our cotton mills do not arise. We may be sure of one thing—no cotton mill will come to our cotton fields except through our own efforts. Let us keep up the unexampled growth of the city by uniting and concentrating our patriotism, money and best efforts towards the building of cotton mills. They will surely put money in our purses, and bread into the mouths of the needy. Who will lead the way?

Cheering News.

Dispatches from New York inform us that at a meeting of the Importers and the Grocer's Boards of Trade, the Corn Exchange and other similar associations, resolutions were adopted, favoring the cheap transportation movement, and the proposed Atlantic great water lines between the west and the seaboard, and calling for a grand mass meeting to be held at the Cooper's Institute, some time in September, for the purpose of aiding this important movement.

We are glad to see that the great commercial metropolis of the Union is joining hands with the farmers of the South and West upon this question. This is right. The commercial and agricultural interests of the country are one in this matter. The North and East begins to see the fact that the building of a great water way, connecting the South and the West, antagonizes no interest in their section. On the contrary, it gives increased prosperity to the West by furnishing it with a great home market. It will increase the cotton product of the South, thereby benefiting the manufacturer and giving us the prospect, at no distant day, of having the balance sheet of trade in our favor, and these combined will enure vastly to the benefit of New York, and other cities that enjoy a trade with foreign countries. We hail with delight moves of this kind. It tells of material progress in the future; of peace and prosperity, and of a country held together, not by the coercion of the bayonet, but those firmer and more lasting ties of mutual interest and mutual benefit.

We may, in our next issue, give a lengthened synopsis of an able and highly interesting article on the canal question, from the New York Herald, which, we are satisfied, will commend itself to our people.

An Inquest Over a Bishop.

How the Right Rev. Samuel Wilberforce Died.

The Story as Told by Earl Granville—Testimony of George Seddons, the Groom—A Consummate Rider Thrown from his Horse by a Stumb's.

[From the London Telegraph, July 19.]

The inquest upon the remains of the Right Rev. Samuel Wilberforce, Bishop of Winchester, who was thrown from his horse and killed, on Saturday evening last, was held, yesterday morning at Abinger Hall, the seat of Mr. Farrer, Secretary of the Board of Trade, before C. H. Rutl, Esq. Coroner. Among those present were the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Earl Granville, R. S. Wilberforce, son and chaplain to the deceased, Capt. Hastings, Chief of the county police, was in attendance.

The jury, having been sworn, proceeded from the dining hall, where the inquest was held, to the drawing room to view the body. The deceased was lying in his episcopal robes, with the blue ribbon denoting his complacency to the Knights of the Garter round his neck. Upon his breast, tastefully worked in pink roses, which was slightly raised, lay his cap, supported upon a cushion. The Bishop's face was placid, the features bearing no trace of pain, nor of the violence which occasioned death.

On the return of the jury, the first witness called was Earl Granville, who appeared considerably affected during the proceedings, his voice at times being scarcely audible, even by those who were sitting nearest to him. He was examined by the Coroner as follows:

The Coroner—Will you tell me in your own words, my lord, what you know of the accident?

THE EARL'S ACCOUNT OF THE ACCIDENT.

Earl Granville—On Saturday evening last I was riding with the deceased from Barford Bridge to Holmbury, followed by my groom. We had proceeded at rather a rapid rate over from the church, built by Mr. Cubitt on Ranmore Common, and had ridden down a steep hill in the chalk range on to a sort of drive of perfectly smoothed grass. Here we came to a broad shallow dip in the ground, which I suppose most of the jury have observed.

The Coroner (to the jury)—Do you happen to know the name of the place?

A juryman—It is called Terry's Rough, but is more commonly known as Evershed's Rough.

Earl Granville—I was riding in front of the Bishop, on his left, and was looking up toward the hill when I heard a peculiar noise behind me, which was followed by a heavy thud on the grass. I immediately turned round and saw the Bishop's horse on his legs; but the Bishop himself was lying on the ground, with his feet stretched out in the direction in which the horses were going. He was lying in a position precisely similar to that in which he is now.

The Coroner—Did you dismount?

Earl Granville—I stopped the two horses almost immediately, and kept my eye on the Bishop, but I could not perceive that he made any effort to rise, or that he moved at all. Having dismounted, I dispatched my groom to Mr. Farrer's for assistance, and while the man was away I raised the Bishop's shoulder and head slightly by putting my hat and coat under him. I also loosened his clothes and took off his neck-cloth. His eyes were shut and his complexion was apparently very clear, his countenance being perfectly serene and composed. There was almost a look of satisfaction on his face. I felt his pulse and his heart, but there were

NO SIGNS OF LIFE.

I perceived no movement whatever. Later on—after Mr. Farrar had arrived and left again for assistance—I felt the pulse once more, and fancied there was a pulsation; but I have since convinced myself that it was a delusion, and that it was only the pulsation of my own finger that I felt.

The Coroner—You did not see the fall?

Earl Granville—I only heard it.

The Coroner—Was there a ditch in the drive, or anything that a horse might shy at or stumble in?

Earl Granville—There was a sort of smooth, very shallow ditch or dip that the horse stepped into.

The Coroner—Had you ever ridden over the same ground before?

Earl Granville—I have ridden the same horse over the same ground very often. The horse was not in the habit of shying, and I never knew it to stumble when ridden by either Lady Granville or myself.

The Coroner—Did you observe anything in the road which the horse would be likely to shy at?

Earl Granville—I could see nothing that I should think would make a horse shy. My groom was riding behind us, and he will perhaps be able to tell you more than I can.

The evidence having been read over to his lordship,

Earl Granville said: I should like to add that I never in my life saw the Bishop in better health and spirits than he was during the ride. He was talking to me about the scenery, and every little incident on the way drew pleasant observations from him. Just before the accident he remarked to me that he never could be tired of riding such a horse as the one he bestrode.

Mr. Henry Chas. Furnival, surgeon, was then examined. He said: I saw the deceased at about 8 on Saturday evening at this house. He was lying on a couch, and was quite dead. I did not observe any marks either on the head or on the body.

THE CAUSE OF DEATH.

The Coroner—Could you see any mark upon him to account for his death?

Witness—From what I learned as to the nature of the accident I came to the conclusion that he was killed in consequence of a fall from his horse.

The Coroner—What should you say was the cause of death.

Witness—Dislocation of the neck. Death must have been instantaneous. There were no appearances to justify me in believing that he died in a fit.

Mr. B. S. Wilberforce here produced the hat worn by the Bishop when the accident took place, and it was evident from this that the deceased must have fallen with considerable violence, for the crown was crushed in such a manner that the lining protruded.

The Coroner (to the jury)—You do not think, gentlemen, that it will be necessary to order a post-mortem examination?

The Foreman—We are perfectly satisfied as to the cause of death.

The jury then returned a verdict of accidental death.

DISPOSITION OF THE BODY.

At 3 o'clock the body, which was still robed in full canonicals, was placed in a wooden shell, with lead covering, in an outside casing of oak, white mountings. The plate bore the following inscription:

Samuel Wilberforce, Bishop of Winchester, 28 years a Bishop of the Church of God; died July 19, 1873, aged 67 years.

Previous to the closing of the coffin a photograph was taken of the deceased prelate by a photographer from Sheire. The cover being then screwed down, the remains were placed in the hearse in waiting, drawn by four horses, to be conveyed to the family residence of the deceased, West Lavington, near Petworth, Sussex, where the funeral will take place on Friday next.

It may be mentioned that one of the last acts of the Bishop of Winchester was to write to Sir Frederick Perkins, whom he had previously known as Mayor of Southampton, in the following terms, the letter being probably the last he wrote:

WINCHESTER HOUSE,
ST. JAMES' SQUARE, July 19.

My Dear Sir Frederick—Allow one who watches with pleasure every success which comes to you to congratulate you on well achieved honors. Yours most truly,

S. WINTON.

☞ Donnan, one of the Iowa salary-grabbers, has found another haven for his'n. He is fast placing it where it will do the most good. Not long since he put a thousand of it into a grand piano. Now he has put another thousand into a fine set of furniture lately ordered in Dubuque. Where he will "place" his other three thousand dollars we wot not.—Dubuque Herald.

PRESENTS FROM THE SHAH.—A photograph, in diamonds, was also offered to Earl Granville, who extracted the picture, pressed it to his heart, and returning the diamonds, explained to the Shah, that much as he thanked him, his position as an English Minister forbade his receiving a present from a foreign monarch.—London Correspondence of the World.

AN OCEAN CYCLONE.

A Midnight Night on the Steamship Olympus.

[Boston Correspondence N. Y. Herald, Aug. 1.]

The Cunard steamer Olympus, which left this port on the 8th inst., encountered a cyclone the second day out, and although a great damage was sustained by the ship, passengers or cargo, the excitement for a time was so intense as to amount to a panic. One of the Boston passengers [illegible] has sent home a very graphic account of the affair. They left [illegible] on the 8th, [illegible] some two hundred and fifty miles the following forenoon the wind commenced from the southeast, and at 11 P.M. of the day turned in, it was blowing steadily from that quarter. At about 2 A.M. they encountered a cyclone, and the ship was put head to the wind, about half past 3 A.M. HEAVY-POINTED SEA STRUCK THE VESSEL [illegible] of the saloon, carrying away the for ward davit of the quarter boat, and some twenty feet of the rail, tearing up and breaking of several of the stanchions of the poop-deck railing, and carrying the after bismarle adrift into the lee rail. This large body of water in the saloon made fearful havoc, ripping up tables, settees and chairs, and tearing away glass racks, side lamps, and other moveables and apparent immoveables, and dashing them pell-mell into the lee side of the saloon. Stewards and waiters asleep in the saloon, were dashed about among the debris of broken chairs, tables, glassware and crockery, but fortunately, with the exception of a few cuts and bruises, were unhurt. Meanwhile the water, checked in its course by the lee side of the saloon, found vent by the companion way and the ventilator into the lower cabin, where the scene for a few moments was very exciting.

THE PASSENGERS AROUSED FROM THEIR SLUMBER

by a terrific crash, which was immediately followed by a rush of water into the lower saloon, and a shower-bath from the ventilator, imagined, that the ship had been run into, and was not only sinking, but already under water. It was with the greatest difficulty that the stewards, headed by the purser, who had recovered from their fright, and rushed to the passengers' assistance in a somewhat primitive costume, could persuade the ladies that there was no real danger. The noise of the gale overhead, the roll and pitch of the ship, and the constant rush of the water from side to side of the ship, were by no means calculated to soothe them. At last, however, some of the passengers and the waiters succeeded in carrying the ladies from the most staterooms aft to the dry ones forward, where they were wrapped up as well as what few dry blankets and shawls on hand would do, and then the stewards and what men could be spared from the deck were set to work which took some three hours, and by daylight the carpets were all up and on deck, together with the mattresses, bedding, etc. Very fortunately, there were no personal accidents of any account. Mr. Wight, of Jordan, Marsh & Co.'s establishment, of Boston, had a cut in the face, which, although it bled quite profusely, is now all healed up. The third officer, Mr. Pierson, had just left the deck to look at the barometer when the sea struck. Had he been a moment later or earlier he would probably have been badly injured and perhaps killed. The purser was washed from his bunk, and, together with the steward, bruised, but not seriously. Those who were not on duty on deck were below, encouraging and quieting the passengers, which act was accomplished in a most incredibly short time, when it is considered that they were all asleep at the time of the accident. After the excitement was over, and the writer had recovered one of his boots, which had gone on a voyage of discovery all over the cabin, he went on deck. The sight was a most beautiful one. The sea, owing to the rapidly changing winds of the cyclone, was not in furrows, as usual, but presented a series of pointed waves rushing in every direction. The accident was of a nature not to be anticipated.

FOUND HIMSELF SWIMMING WHEN HE AWOKE,

Twenty Negroes Arrested—The Lynchers of Wyatt, in Madison County.

[From the Jackson, Tenn., Whig and Tribune.]

On Friday of last week, after we went to press, twenty negro men, charged with the lynching of Mr. William Hamilton Wyatt, (named by us last week through misinformation, Ham), were arrested and brought to this city by a large guard of citizens and lodged in jail. They had a preliminary trial on Monday, and all but four of them were admitted to bail in the sum of $500 each—Joe Rice, Monroe Ethridge, Nathan Fain and Charles Reid, were the four denied bail.

Nine of those admitted to bail gave the same and were discharged. The murder of Wyatt was one of the most brutal ever recorded in the bloody book of crime. The negroes were drunk, and at a late hour in the night, when their drunken passions were at fever heat, they went to the house of their victim, rending the very air with their demoniac yells. The doomed man seemed to know his peril, and before the maddened fiends had reached his house he took refuge underneath the floor of his bed-room. But his hiding place was soon discovered, and each devil incarnate discharged his weapon until Wyatt's body was perforated in every part by the deadly lead. When dead, his murderers retired, singing and shouting like the demons which hate and revenge had made them, while the frightened, puzzled wife and her helpless little ones were left in darkness and solitude with the dead. The story about Wyatt's having outraged an old negro woman is false. The woman whom it is charged he violated lives on the farm of William Manly, and utterly denies the whole story, so far as she is concerned.

Wyatt was an East Tennesseean and did not sustain a very good character, but his tragic death has shocked the whole community, and the wildest excitement, coupled with the most startling rumors, prevail. There is a mystery, dark, and yet impenetrable, hanging over the terrible affair. We cannot believe all that we have heard, and caution the people to beware of hasty conclusions and hurtful insinuations. When fully developed we will ventilate the whole affair.

General Bedford's Large Stock Sale Opened Successfully—Probably Fatal Shooting Affray.

[Special Dispatch to the Courier Journal.]

PARIS, KY., August 5.—A shooting affray occurred at North Middletown, in this county, last night, in which John Mason Talbott was shot three times, once in the head, once in the back and once in the wrist, and dangerously wounded, by Joe Harris. The difficulty occurred about the vote of Harris at the election. Talbott is widely known South as a large mule trader. Both are young men, and sons of wealthy parents. Harris fled, and has not been arrested yet. Talbott is still alive, and some hope are entertained of his recovery.

The auction sale of short-horn cattle belonging to General Bedford took place at his farm near here to-day. The sale was the largest of any in Kentucky this season. The amount of public sales was $32,585; the highest price paid for any one animal at auction was $4,000 for a bull. He sold his famous bull 11th Duke of Geneva for $7,000, privately, to George Murray, of Racine, Wisconsin. The average price of the stock sold at auction was $857 50. Large numbers of stock men from a distance are here. There will be other large sales to-morrow and next day.

WOMAN'S DEVOTION.—A correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal, writing from one of the watering places, has the following concerning a gentleman and lady who are well known and highly esteemed in St. Louis: "I have recently met a lovely Kentucky lady, Mrs. General ——. She is from Newport. Gen. Paul had both of his eyes shot out in battle. He bears his affliction with the resignation of a Christian martyr. At the Cook ball the General was in full uniform, and would playfully repeat the exclamations he heard about the beautiful flowers. His charming wife is the staff upon which he leans, and she so tenderly watches and guides his steps that she is eyes and everything to him. In the carriage he made some gallant speech to her, and she said: 'Oh! husband, I have changed so that I don't believe you would know me if you saw me, it is so long since you saw me.' Such rare devotion as theirs gives eyes to the soul, and the loss of the outward ones is not recognized."

EARLY NIGHT DISPATCHES.

The Virginia Conservatives,

Exciting Scene in the Convention Over the Nomination of Withers for Lieutenant Governor.

Wild Enthusiasm.

RICHMOND, August 7.—The Conservative Convention opened this morning with prayer by Rev. Dr. J. B. Setler, of the Baptist Church.

A committee of three was appointed to wait on Captain Robert R. Withers to invite him to the privilege of a seat, and to ascertain if he will consent to accept the nomination for Lieutenant Governor. During the absence of the committee Colonel Skeer, of Allegheny, stated that the Convention had not approached Captain Withers properly, but that if they desired him to serve on the ticket, they should nominate him by acclamation and then ascertain if he would serve.

Amid the applause which ensued General J. M. Walker, of Pulaski, the most prominent candidate for the nomination of Lieutenant Governor, took the stand and stated that although not a delegate, he desired the indulgence of the convention to second the nomination of Colonel Withers, which he proceeded to do in graceful and eloquent language, withdrawing his own name.

At this stage of the proceedings, Colonel Withers, accompanied by the committee, made his appearance in the building, and was greeted enthusiastically, the convention en masse rising and cheering him to the echo.

Upon reaching the platform, Col. Withers being introduced said he felt totally incapable of giving expression to his feeling. When first approached upon the subject of accepting the second position, he peremptorily declined, although he intended to use every emotion of his heart, and every effort of his intellect, to promote the Conservative cause. When he came to the building, his mind had not changed, and he still expected to decline. But when friend after friend approached him and he was besieged with earnest requests to serve his people, he felt that he could hold out no longer and must surrender. If he would listen to his heart he would still refuse, but he was willing to work anywhere and in any post to defeat the enemies of the Conservative party in Virginia.

The enthusiasm which ensued was of the wildest description—delegates and spectators joining in the tremendous and continuous applause.

A similar attempt was made to nominate Col. John Walker, who had withdrawn his name in favor of Colonel Withers, for the office of Attorney General, but Col. Walker positively declining, the attempt failed.

P. W. McKinney, of Prince Edwards county, and Hon. R. S. Daniels, of Richmond, were then nominated for Attorney General, and their generals claims and merits ably endorsed.

LATER.

The correct name of James M. Walker, of Pulaski, is Gen. James A. Walker. Gen. J. H. Williams, of Frederick county, E. J. Godwin, of Portsmouth, and Gen. James A. Walker, were also nominated. All the candidates were endorsed in speeches which consumed several hours, when finally the roll of counties was ordered to be called, resulting as follows: Williams and Godwin having declined—whole number of votes cast, 118,541, of which Daniel received 46,236, Walker 38,644, McKinney 3,370.

A number of counties changed votes solidly to Daniel, when a motion to make his nomination unanimous was carried amid great applause. Mr. Daniel accepted in a stirring speech. After which a recess was taken until 8 P. M., when a platform will be reported.

The utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed during the day and the proceedings were conducted amid much enthusiasm.

LIGHTNING SCRAPS.

The Sharkey Murderer.

NEW YORK, August 7.—The Supreme Court issued a writ of error staying the proceedings in the case of the condemned murderer of Sharkey.

GOVERNMENT GOLD SALES.

The Government sold $1,500,000 gold, today, at a fraction under 15.

GOT THE BEER ON THEM.

WORCESTER, August 7.—Fourteen German beer-sellers were summoned before the Central District Court to-day, most of them for the third time. Six were fined $100 and costs and sentenced to the House of Correction for six months, and ordered to find one thousand dollars bail not to violate the law for one year. They all appealed and found the bail required.

THE SARATOGA RACES.

SARATOGA, August 7.—The Kenner stakes, open to all, was won by Nick. Time 3.39. In the mile and a half dash, open to all ages, Arizona won by two lengths; Wanderer was second. Time 2.38.

FIRE IN ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO, August 7.—Fire among the planing mills. Loss $70,000.

BRIGHAM'S DESERTER.

SALT LAKE CITY, August 7.—The brevet-wife of Brigham Young has filed a new plea. Brigham Young's counsel have filed a demurrer to the jurisdiction of the court in his divorce case, this morning, and the case was postponed until to-morrow afternoon.

TRIAL STEAMER TRIP.

PHILADELPHIA, August 7.—The Ohio sailed to-day for Liverpool on her first trip, with 27 passengers and a full cargo.

MONSTER EXCURSION.

An excursion train of forty cars carried 2,500 people to Atlantic City to-day.

SHIP ARRIVAL.

SAVANNAH, August 7.—Arrived—Seminole.

DECREASED SPECIE IN PARIS BANK.

PARIS, August 7, 1873.—Specie in the Bank of France decreased nearly 4,000,000 francs.

MOTLEY BETTER.

LONDON, August 7.—Motley is much better—it was neuralgia, not appoplexy.

ENGLISH FIRE.

A rice mill in the eastern suburbs of London burned.

THE WEATHER.

In Georgia, Winds, Clouds and Occasional Rains.

WASHINGTON, August 6.—For the Northwest, thunderbalms, warmer, southeast winds warm and increasingly cloudy weather. For the upper lake region and Indiana, northeasterly to northwesterly winds veering to southeast with cloudy weather and local rains extending to the lower Ohio Valley. For the lower lakes and thence to West Virginia, southwesterly and northwestery winds, cooler and cloudy weather and light local rains. For the New England States southwesterly winds, warm and cloudy weather, and occasional rains. For the Middle and Atlantic States southwesterly and westerly winds, warm and partly cloudy weather with occasional rains. For the South Atlantic and Eastern Gulf States falling barometer, southeasterly winds, rising temperature, occasional cloudy weather and rains near the coasts. For the Western Gulf States southeasterly winds, high temperature and generally clear clear weather. Reports are missing from the extreme northwest.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Constitutional Amendments Adopted.

WILMINGTON, August 7.—The election on the constitutional amendments and for township officers took place throughout the State to-day. But little interest was manifested. The county gives a majority against the constitutional amendments. It is generally conceded that they are all adopted, as there was but little opposition in any counties, only in four of the colored counties where a decided effort was made to defeat the amendments.

A STIRRING RACE.

SARATOGA, August 7.—The third contest was a selling race for all ages for a purse of $500, 1¼ miles.

The following started: Business, Wyman, Chickabiddy, the Moore Nurse, Orisian, Fadladan, Bingham, McDaniel's chestnut filly and Minnie W.

It took half an hour to affect a start. At the first quarter mile Business was two lengths ahead of Chickabiddy. On the second quarter coming towards the home stretch Chickabiddy closed up with Business. It was one race up the home stretch. However, Bingham strode to the front, and won by a neck—Business second, Minnie W. third, the Moore fourth. Time, 2:10¼.

SPAIN.

Important Carlist Victory Reported.

MADRID, August 7.—The Carlists attacked Orjarsini in Juipuzco. A conspiracy has been discovered to give the town up to the enemy, and many have been arrested.

The bombardment of Valencia has been suspended, a flag of truce having been received from the insurgents requesting a parley, which is now going on.

The Cortes, by a vote of 184 yeas to 1 nay, have passed a bill granting constitutional guarantees to Porto Rico. A dispatch from that colony, in course of debate, declared that the Island would always remain faithful to Spain.

The Impartial says that Espartero is extremely popular in the Cortes.

BAYONNE, August 7.—The Carlists claim a victory at Eguitoc. They state that they captured one Republican General and six hundred prisoners.

FRANCE.

Count Paris and Count Chambard Still Cooing.

PARIS, August 7.—A Vienna dispatch says Count de Chambard returned the visit of Count de Paris yesterday. The interview between them lasted over two hours. Nothing is known of the nature of the conference.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

THE PLAGUE.

The Cholera Reappears in Chattanooga.

Eight Cases and Two Fatal.

The Sale of Fruit and Vegetables Prohibited.

NASHVILLE, August 7.—The cholera reappeared in Chattanooga to-day. There were eight cases, two were fatal. As yet it is confined to the colored population and is caused by eating unripe fruit and melons.

The mayor of Chattanooga has issued a proclamation forbidding the sale of all fruits and vegetables except potatoes and tomatoes.

The National A B C's.

ELMIRA, August 7.—The meeting of the National Educational Association, this morning, was very largely attended. M. A. Newall, Superintendent of the schools of Maryland, spoke in regard to the school system of that State, describing it fully, and showing the admirable state of affairs there. He was followed and sustained by Dr. Van Bokelin, of New York.

The Virginia Democrats.

They Pass a Series of Careful, Comprehensive, Patriotic Resolutions.

RICHMOND, August 7.—Upon the reassembling of the convention at 8 1-2 o'clock, the committee on business, through Hon. James Barbour, of Culpepper, reported the following series of resolutions, or declaration of principles, which were adopted:

RESOLUTIONS.

We the representatives of the Conservative people of Virginia in convention assembled do declare:

1. That a contrast with the condition of those Southern States which have been under Radical rule, illustrates the wisdom of the people of Virginia in the adoption of their State policy, and demonstrates the necessity of continuing the powers of the State government in the control of the conservative people of this Commonwealth.

2. That the chief purpose of the Conservative party of Virginia is to secure to every citizen of this Commonwealth, whether native or adopted, of the white or colored race, exact and impartial justice, and to promote by wise and benificent legislation the prosperity of our whole people.

3d. That the Conservative party of Virginia are disclaiming all purpose of captious hostility to General Grant, and will judge him partially by his official action, and will cordially co-operate in every measure of his administration, which may be beneficient in its design and calculated to promote the welfare of the people and to cultivate sentiments of good will between the different sections of the Union.

4. That the interest of a large section of this union no less than Virginia, demands the speedy enlargement and completion of the great James River and Kanawha water line, that should connect the waters of the Ohio with those of the Chesapeake, affording to the teeming population of the West cheap transportation of their products to points of shipment and marts of trade in the East. The completion by the government of this great design of George Washington would be an additional bond of union between the communities whose products and commodities would pass over the line of this great national work.

5. We recognize as a fundamental political truth, that upon the intelligence and virtue of its people must rest the prosperity, power and pre-eminence of a State. We point with pride to the successful establishment and progress of the free school system of Virginia which was organized and conducted under circumstances of peculiar difficulty for which we are indebted to the wisdom and zeal of a Conservative State Government. Liberal provisions ought to be continued for the support and extension of the free schools for the white and colored races respectively.

English Races.

LONDON, August 7.—The race for the Brighton Cup took place at Brighton yesterday, and was won by Uhlan; Flageolet was second and Mornington third. Five ran. The betting at the start was 7 to 4 against Uhlan, even on Flageolet, and 8 to 1 against Mornington.

Ship Wreck Near Ireland.

LONDON, August 7.—A large quantity of debris from a wrecked vessel has been discovered off the coast of Ireland. The wreck is supposed to be that of the State Line steamship Alabama, which left Glasgow for New York on Saturday last. The survivors from any wreck in that vicinity have not yet been heard of, and nothing more definite in regard to the disaster can be learned.

The Ivey Homicide Case.

JUDGE HOPKINS DECLINES TO ADMIT THE PRISONER TO BAIL.

Yesterday morning the attorneys in the case against W. F. Ivey, charged with the murder of George Hudson, a colored convict in the custody of Grant, Alexander & Co., assembled in the Superior Court, to hear the decision of his Honor Judge Hopkins upon an application made by the defense to admit the prisoner to bail. The Judge announced that his opinion had been pretty well formed from the examination he had given to the evidence, but he was still open to conviction, and would hear argument.

Judge W. F. Wright, in behalf of the prisoner, made an able speech, in which he brought all the strong points, both of law and fact, he could, to bear on his side of the case, and again moved to admit to bail. Col. S. B. Spencer, and Col. W. H. Hulsey, for the prosecution, would have replied to Judge Wright's argument, but the Court did not desire to hear from them, and then formally announced its decision. The decision was, in effect, that this was a case in which the Court was unable to grant such application, and could not, therefore, admit to bail, and commented at length upon the testimony. Consequently Ivey must remain in jail until his trial at the next term of Fulton Superior Court.

THE JACKSON COUNTY HOMICIDE.

The Investigation of the United States Authorities.

Yesterday afternoon Commissioner W. B. Smith and the Assistant U. S. District Attorney, Geo. S. Thomas, returned from Jackson county, where they had gone, to investigate the recent killing of Mr. J. R. Holliday, who was killed on the 16th of June. The parties charged with the homicide are Simon Martin, Frank Martin, Green Martin, Isaac Austin, David Hancock, Jackson Jones, Parker Whitehead, Marcus Ivey, Columbus Johnson, Milton Whitehead, Dr. Motley, Alpin Pendergrass, Thomas McKhannon, Lu Johnson and Jackson Ross.

Beyond the holding of an inquest the Federal authorities have learned that no efforts have been made to bring these parties to justice, and hence this visit of the above-mentioned officers.

Upon reaching Jackson county they learned that Mr. Emory Speer, the Solicitor General of the circuit, had received instructions from Governor Smith to give this matter his especial attention and see that the State law, if it had been outraged, was fully vindicated.

The two officers further learned that the prisoners had been arrested the day before their arrival, and in the custody of the Sheriff of Jackson county. Under this state of things the Commissioners and the District Attorney decided not to interfere, as the State law was amply able to punish the prisoners if they were guilty, and any interference on the part of the part of the United States would be worse than useless.

Captain J A Fitten and W Woods were the umpires.

Venable missed twice because the cups burst without exploding the gun.

PERSONAL.—Among the distinguished members of the bar present here in attendance on the Supreme Court we notice Hon. Robert Toombs, Hon. W. H. Rouse and Judge S. H. Hardeman, of Washington; R. N. Ely, Albany; Hon. W. D. Kiddoo, Cuthbert.

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens was in the city yesterday.

Prof. Schmacker, the popular musical instructor, and Prof. Schmacker, the celebrated musical instructor, were in the city yesterday.

Mr. Joseph M Brown, son of Ex-Gov Brown, was admitted to the practice of law, in Cherokee Superior Court on Tuesday, after a creditable examination, in open Court, by General W Phillips, Col C D Phillips, Hon W D Anderson, E L Litchfield, W H Simmons and J O Dowda. Judge Knight remarked to the new-fledged lawyer:

"You Ex-Gov. Brown's son, you have a heritage to bear the very compliimentary terms in which the gentlemen, who were appointed to examine you, have certified to your qualifications for admission to the bar, and hear myself, the examination which you have just passed through in open court. And I take occasion here to say that in all my experience I have never before heard anyone examined who has proved himself so very proficient in his knowledge of the law. I do not say this by way of flattery, but because the examination really justifies me in the assertion. I need not here say that the profession, into which you are about to be admitted, is a most highly honorable and noble one. You have, sir, in your examination given evidence of the closest application in the study of the law, and decided talent for the profession which you have chosen, and if in your future course, you bear you self out as well as you have in this examination to-day, the highest positions in the profession lie easily within your reach."

The order for his admission was then granted, and he was sworn in as an attorney and counsellor at law, by Colonel Charles D. Phillips, of Marietta.

The following were registered at the Kimball House last night:

W M Rose, M P Rose S H Hardeman, Washington; S Meador, Miss Boroughs, Augusta; W L Archibald, Miss Archibald, Mrs Whitfield, Memphis; F A Summey and wife, North Carolina; C J Rogers, Savannah; H C Worthington, New York; W D Palmer, W H Rose, Macon; Tomlinson Fort, Chattanooga; T H Williams, Savannah; R N Ely, Albany; N O Banks, H Arnold, Palmetto; J H Lane, United States Coast Survey; Hon J W Warren and lady, Kirkwood; John Sprott, Kentucky; J H Chace, Jr, New York; Col W Handy, Charles Handy, Mississippi; W M Opedyke, Ohio; Captain A H Wynn, S H Tarver, Savannah; E B Exum, Cincinnati; B G Lockett, J B Lockett, W Lockett, Miss Lizzie Lockett, Mrs Lockett, Macon; John J Cohen and wife, Haney Cohan, C B Romney, Augusta; J Pinckney Thomas, Mrs Thomas, Master Joseph Thomas, Miss Louis Scales, Burke Co; G W Hancock, Ga; Mrs Gavin, Mobile; W M Slaton, Georgia; R H Garland, The Rock; Robert Douglass, Iowa; General Robert Toombs, Washington; J H Williams, Miss Lizzie Williams, Newton, Ga; A J White, Barnesville.

Among a host of arrivals at the National last night, were the following:

J K Smith, Prof G C Looney, Palmet o; Robt Riddle, S C; Hanson Simms, Newnan; Rean Campbell and wife, Shreveport, W C Beeks, Savannah; H Cranston, Augusta; Prof H Schirmacker, R D Spalding and wife, LaGrange; J L Hunt, Dr J C C Blackburn, Barnesville; W D Kiddoo, Cuthbert; W A Parks, Marietta; N M Steiner, Baltimore; W T Burge, N Y; A M Speights, Griffin; H Danford, Macon; S W Blance, Americus; H A Hayes, Lexington; J M Lemons, Cincinnati; C C Floyd, Macon; Boney Loe, Hart's troupe; W H Cooper, Fla; Thomas Green, Albany; W B Whitmore, Marietta; S S Murdock, Columbus; T Mastin, Ga.

Mr. Eggleston, of the firm of Crane, Boylston & Co. has returned from a trip to the East.

A BOY GETS HIS FOOT CRUSHED.—Yesterday evening, between five and six o'clock, Master Shipley, son of Mr. Shipley, an employee of the Rolling Mill, attempted to jump on the inward bound freight train on the State Road as it was passing the Rolling Mill. He failed to do so, and the car wheels ran over his foot, mangling it so severely as to require amputation. The amputation was skilfully performed by Dr. Willis P. Westmoreland, and at last accounts the boy was doing well. The boy was about twelve years of age.

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA.

Commencement Day—A Novel Proceedure—Speeches—Champion Debate—Dr. Lipscomb Resigns—No Winter Vacation.

ATHENS, August 6, 1873.

We went to the chapel this morning with a young lady. At the door she was violently wrested from us, and at the same time an order was given us to proceed alone to the gallery. We demurred, and inquired into the cause of this novel procedure, and were told that the ladies could not keep the gentlemen quiet, and therefore the latter were to be committed to the care of the police in the gallery. There's no use antagonizing the powers that be, and so we proceeded sullenly up stairs. But very soon the severity of the order lost its keenness in a revocation, at least to the extent of an exception in our favor. And so we next found our situation grand, gloomy and peculiar, surrounded by an unaccountable number of indescribable, nuts, mad females. They were equally as indigent as the gentleman. The men were quiet and sullen. The women mad and demonstrative. One country maiden, who had been robbed of an anticipated chat with her swain, said she "didn't see the use of it, nohow," and emphasized that with a revengeful pout. Very soon they agreed to accept the situation and began to nod their heads about like dusks in a poultry yard and declare war against this infringement upon woman's rights. But if the ladies were piqued and disappointed the gentlemen bore it philosophically, and with the exception of the talking done by the former, the house was more quiet during the entire morning than we ever know it to be before on a commencement day.

THE SPEAKERS.

R. Adams, Eatonton, Georgia—Independence of Thought. An able philippic against slavish compliance with the opinions of others without developing our own thought and judgment.

H. W. Barrow, Oglethorpe county—Penalties of Greatness. A clear and accurate thinker. The audience listened attentively, and this young orator evidently made a fine impression.

C. M. Beckwith, Petersburg, Virginia—Influence of Revolutions on Art and Literature. His speech was based on the hypothesis of Lamarkism, that "ideas vegetate in human blood."

J. T. Buchanan, Newnan, Georgia—Statesmanship. He gave a vivid picture of the corruption of men in high places in contrast with a portraiture of pure honest statesmen.

Messrs. Z. D. Huff, of Cusseta, Georgia, and S. A. Reid, of Eatonton, Georgia, were excused. Both of these gentlemen are fine students. Mr. Huff takes the Greek medal. They were the last of those chosen as B. A. speakers.

Mr. E. W. Montgomery, of Fort Lamar, Georgia, had an elegant oration on the power of Cultivated Mind. He is a B. S.

R. J. Willingham, Macon, Ga., is the only genius man who takes the M. A. degree this year. "Opposition to New Ideas." It was an abstract scholarly effort—the best speech made.

Announcement of certificates—monology.

Presentation of prize medals.

The audience generally had decided that either Mr. Gaston or Mr. Geddes would take the Sophomore prize. They were therefore very much disappointed when Mr. Fox, of Madison, was announced as the successful competitor.

PRIZE MEDALISTS FOR 1872-73.

G T Gober, Marietta—Sophomore Scholarship.

A A Lipscomb, Jr., District of Columbia—University Prize Essay.

Hall, Stephens [illegible] Secretary. Question—In the murder of Duncan, was Lady Macbeth guiltier than Macbeth?

Affirmative, (Lemosthenose) C Z. McCord, Augusta, Ga.; W. G. Lamar, Athens, Ga.; A. S. Clayton, Atlanta, Ga.; R. J. Willingham, Macon, Ga.

Negative, (Phi Kappas) R. L. Antony, Texas; B. M. Beckwith, Petersburg, Va.; C. A. Niles, Griffin, Ga.; Idus L. Fielder, Cuthbert, Ga.

The Phi Kappa won it. Mr. Clayton, of your city, sustained his reputation as a logical and forcible debater. Mr. Willingham also made a fine argument. Messrs. Antony and Niles also did well. But the speech of the evening was made by Mr. Field r. His was the argument that won the question. Searching, accurate, bold as was his logic, he could not fail to see his whole matter in a clear light. He was the only speaker who had anything like connected attention. Most of the other speeches were written, cut and dried, long and lifeless.

Mr. Fielder will make his name at the bar. He is a son of Hon. Herbert Fielder, of Cuthbert.

Mr. Stephens looks well. He is one of the few men who grow large as you approach them.

Professor Lipscomb is better. Dr. Lipscomb has resigned the Chancellorship. His resignation will not, however, go into effect in all the next commencement.

College is adjourned until the 1st of October. There is to be hereafter no winter vacation. A wise change.

SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA, THURSday, August 7, 1873.—Argument of No. 3, Western Circuit. James P Simmons vs. D M Byrd and A H Cates was resumed and concluded. James P Simmons, Winn & Simmons, Hillyer & Bro., for plaintiff in error. Clark & Pace, J N Glenn and N L Hutchins for defendants in error.

Pending argument of No 4, Western Circuit—James P Simmons vs Andrew J Shaffer—the Court adjourned till 10 o'clock, A. M., to-morrow.

The Commissioners's Court.

During the absence of Commissioner W. R. Smith, Commissioner Lawson Black has presided in the halls of justice, and yesterday disposed of the cases against the following parties, who were arrested in Dawson county charged with violations of the internal revenue laws:

Jefferson Row and Reuben Hall, charged with illicit distilling, were discharged on account of the insufficiency of the evidence against them.

Moses Canfrell, same offense, was committed to jail in default of a bond of $250.

The prisoners were represented by J. A. Tollison, Esq. The District Attorney, Henry P. Farrow, appeared for the government.

Justice's Courts.

Perry Williams, a light-fingered gentleman of color, was tried before Justice Butt, yesterday, for stealing lard from the Macon & Western railroad cars. The evidence was pretty conclusive against Perry, as he was caught in the very act, and the magistrate sent him to jail, where in pensive reflection, he will await the next session of the City Court. A. W. Hammond for State; J. A. Stephens contra.

The charge of retailing brought by Miles Johnson against Andrew Davis, before Justice Munday, was happily terminated night before last by the marriage of the parties. Justice Munday performed the ceremony, and took occasion to deliver some remarks in explanation of the marriage state, which are said to have been both edifying and affecting.

Yesterday Rachel Boyd put in an appearance before Justice Munday and took out a warrant against Carrie Hull for simple larceny, charging the aforesaid Carrie with having, on the 1st day of July, 1873, appropriated to herself one pantaloon, the property of deponent, without lawful warrant or authority. The case came to trial, but the evidence was so weak the Court felt constrained to discharge the defendant.

THE HOP AT THE KIMBALL HOUSE.—The second of the series of hops which have been inaugurated by Colonel Nichols, the proprietor of this popular house, occurred last evening. In addition to its usual attractions the success of this hop was heightened by the presence of a number of belles from other places, who happened to be passing through the city on their return home from the Athens commencement.

We could mention quite a number of names of ladies who were as lovely as they were amiable, but as we were unable to procure their consent, we refrain generally refrain through fear of their wrath. Suffice it, to say that Macon, Burke county, as well as several other counties were most beautifully represented.

A large number of Atlanta's most brilliant gems also cast their gentle rays over the scene, and well sustained their widely known reputation for nearly everything worth having in the line of beauty and accomplishments. Colonel Nichols, mine host of the house, was indefatigable in his attentions to his guests, and increased, if possible, the evening's pleasures by his courtesies.

With music and dancing the swift hours flew until after midnight, when all went home to wait for the next.

REVISED CODE.—The Revised Code of Georgia will be issued from the press of J. W. Burke & Co., of Macon, about the first of September next. This is the most important edition ever published, and is valuable to all classes. The price of a single volume will bound is $10.

W. F. STOKES.—W. F. Stokes, wholesale dealer in fruits, nuts, canned goods and fancy groceries, has removed from Granite Block to No 17, Alabama street. We invite attention to the advertisement of Mr. Stokes, and commend him to the patronage of our readers.

A CRITICAL SEASON.—Toward the close of the warm season the long continued heat begins to tell upon body and mind. Both become exhausted, and we feel instinctively that nature, after fighting a gallant battle with a debilitating temperature is dropping at last and requires to be stimulated and reinforced. This, therefore, is a period of the year when a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is especially useful. The immediate effect of this unequalled vegetable restorative is to strengthen the stomach, sharpen the appetite, tone and regulate the bowels and give steadiness and vigor to the nerves. As a preventative of the endemic and epidemic complaints that prevail at this season, and as a remedy for indigestion, liver disturbances, nervous debility, constipation, languor, headache, and all irregularities of the bowels, this pure and wholesome vegetable tonic and alterative has no equal among medicines.

An English Clergyman Wishes he had not Ventured Beyond Ninety-nine.

The London Matrimonial News has lately been instrumental—but deserves no thanks for it—of bringing to justice a scoundrel who, were he to be punished according to his deserts, should be kept at hard labor in prison for the remainder of his life. The man in question, whatever his real name may be, has been known to a small army of confiding young ladies as Rev. Reuben Alexander Berson. An excellent education, a tolerable appearance, and attractive manners, being, for aught that is known to the contrary, his entire stock in trade. He appears to have started out in life with the purpose of making matrimony the stepping-stone to fortune. His early efforts having not succeeded in the way that he desired, he resolved to continue entering into wedlock until he should have accumulated enough money from dowers to enable him to settle down comfortably with the most prepossessing of his victims, it is suspected that he began his unprincipled career about ten years ago—he is now over thirty—and that he has ever since plied his trade with unflagging energy. To judge from the character and quantity of his correspondence at the time of his arrest, it would scarcely be overshooting the mark to say that fully one hundred women have been married to him.

An account has already been given in these columns of a few of the circumstances which led to his at last being put upon trial for bigamy. While in London several months ago, engaged in paying his addresses through the medium of the Matrimonial News to from thirty-five to forty young ladies, with the intention of wedding all of them, he contrived to make the acquaintance of General Frangini. The house of that gentleman he used as a base of operations. Among those who were advertising in the News for positions as governess was a Miss Boulton, the daughter of a retired naval officer residing at Clapham. Berson obtained an introduction to her from the editor of the News. Having assumed for the time being the role of Presbyterian clergyman, he wrote several letters to her in a most pious strain, concluding with a note to her father, in which he requested the honor of an alliance with his family. To satisfy the paternal mind as to his ability to provide for a wife, he announced in a postscript that he had just been appointed head master of a new college in Brazil, at a salary of £300 a year, and a house rent free; that he had already some property, and expected in two or three years to be able to retire on a handsome fortune. Mr. Boulton, unwilling to lose such a chance for securing the happiness of his daughter, gave the required consent, and the marriage was solemnized soon afterward. As the preliminaries were being arranged, Berson took advantage of the opportunity to induce General Frangini to loan him £300 on personal security. He led the General to believe Miss Boulton was heiress to a considerable fortune, of which he was to have the management. Indeed, General Frangini was so thoroughly impressed as to the truth of the statement that he invited Berson to pass the honeymoon at his house, and to use it as if it were his house. Subsequently, the General having discovered the true state of the case, turned Berson and the unfortunate young lady out of doors.

Berson was then arrested, and the publicity which his doings received was the means of shedding light upon many of his infamous deeds. A large sum of money found in his possession by the police was claimed by the German Consul on behalf of one of his countrywomen, whom Berson had decoyed to London upon a promise of marriage. In fact, victims have turned up by the score; but, for the purpose of the prosecution, it was not necessary to use more than one in addition to Miss Boulton. This lady was a Miss Kidd, the daughter of a Justice of the Peace at Armagh, Ireland, to whom Berson was married in 1870, while acting as assistant master of a school in that place. After leaving Miss Kidd he advertised for a wife in the Irish Times, but not succeeding to his satisfaction in Dublin, he removed to London, and there began the brilliant career which ended so suddenly. On the 9th of the present month he was found guilty of bigamy, and sentenced to five years' penal servitude—a punishment altogether too light, considering the number and character of his crimes.

Now, however much Miss Boulton may be to blame for using the columns of the Matrimonial News as a medium by which to procure a situation as governess, she has certainly done an important service to society in ridding it of such an unmitigated scoundrel. Instead of hiding her head in shame, or bearing her cross in silence, as the other victims had done, she promptly handed her betrayer over to the authorities, and prosecuted him with unfaltering determination. If the Miss Boultons were more numerous the Bersons would be fewer.

WHY WILL YE DIE?—Death, or what is worse, is the inevitable result of continued suspension of the menstrual flow. It is a condition which should not be trifled with. Immediate relief is the only safeguard against constitutional ruin. In all cases of suppression, suspension or other irregularity of the "courses," Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator is the only sure remedy. It acts by giving tone to the nervous centres, improving the blood and determining directly to the organs of menstruation. It is a legitimate prescription, and the most intelligent Doctors use it. Prepared by J. H. Bradfield, druggist, Atlanta, Ga; $1 50 per bottle, and sold by respectable druggists everywhere.

TUSKEGEE, ALA.

MR. L. H. BRADFIELD—Sir: Please forward us, immediately, another supply of BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR. We find it to be all that is claimed for it, and we have witnessed the most decided and happy effects produced by it. Very respectfully,

HUNTER & ALEXANDER.

I could add a thousand other certificates; but I consider the above amply sufficient proof of its virtue. All I ask is a trial.

The startling death-blow on nearly all medicinal agents has ever been dealt in their process of purgation and purification they have also debilitated the system. To obviate this difficulty physicians have long sought for the agent that would

PURGE, PURIFY AND STRENGTHEN

At one and the same time.

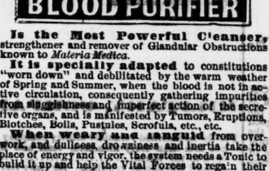
Their research has at last been rewarded by a discovery which full realizes the fondest desires of the medical faculty, and which is justly regarded as the most important triumph that Pharmacy has ever achieved The important desideratum is

Dr. Tutt's Vegetable Liver Pill.

Which purify the blood and remove all corrupt humors and unhealthy accumulations from the body, and yet produces no weakness or lassitude whatever, but on the contrary tones the stomach, and invigorates the body during the progress of their operation. They excite the heretofore irresistible qualities of a STRENGTHENING PUGATIVE and PURIFYING TONIC.

Dr. Tutt's Pills are the most active and searching medicine in existence. They at once attack the very root of diseases, and their action is so prompt that in an hour or two after they are taken the patient is aware of their good effects. They may be taken at any time without restraint of diet or occupation; they produce neither nausea, griping or debility, and as a family medicine they have no rival

Price 25 cents a box. Sold by all Druggists.
Principal office, 18 and 20 Platt St., New York.



Is the Most Powerful Cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the excretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, etc., etc.

When weary and worn with pain, from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURRUBEBA

Is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties: it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be Freely taken, as Jurrubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

TATE SPRINGS,

East Tennessee.

TATE SPRINGS are situated in the beautiful and fertile Bean's Station Valley, one and a half miles from Clinch Mountain, and ten miles from Morristown, on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad, from which point a daily mail is received. They are surrounded by magnificent mountain scenery, in one of the highest and driest sections in East Tennessee, in the immediate vicinity of Chalybeate, Alum, Red, White and Black Sulphur Waters, and, all things considered, we are bound to acknowledge in this, as in all nature, the superior wisdom of the Creator in locating this inestimable blessing to mankind.

MEANS OF ACCESS.

Arrangements have been made with the principal railroad South for round trip tickets, which may be obtained at all the large cities and towns.

DAILY LINE OF HACKS.

Contracts are made with competent and responsible parties to run a daily line of hacks from Morristown to the Springs. The hacks will be new, and of the most comfortable and modern styles, gotten up expressly for this line. They are to meet all passenger trains at the depot, and look after the comfort and accommodation of all persons passing over their line. The hacks make their trips in day time.

Ladies and families traveling alone will be especially looked after and cared for, and their baggage also.

Hacks leave the Turley House immediately after the arrival of trains. By this means any Express or other packages can be conveyed to or from Morristown to the Springs.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

The accommodations are still being extended, so that we hope to be prepared to entertain all of our guests comfortably. Among the new improvements are—

A spacious Ball Room,
A series of Bath Rooms,
The Grounds are much improved,
A Livery Stable well stocked.

The Proprietors claim to have superior advantages over any preceding season, having all their public rooms ready at the opening of the season, a good stock of supplies on hand, and an experienced class of servants employed.

The rooms are principally cottage, with porches, fire places, and wardrobes or closets.

Good Bowling Alleys for gratuitous use of guests. In addition to which we expect to have a Band of Music.

The Proprietors assert their determination to spare no trouble or expense to render guests comfortable and to promote their improvement.

RATES OF BOARD.

The Springs are open for the reception of visitors at all times.

Per Month—June at $40, $12 00 per week, $1 75 per day. July, August and September, each, at $45 00 per month, $13 per week, $2 00 per day. October same as June.

THE WATERS.

The Water is recommended in the cure of all derangements of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels, and diseases originating with the Organs.

OUR RESIDENT PHYSICIAN'S SPECIALITIES.

Our resident physician makes a specialty of Catarrh of the Nose, Throat and Wind Pipe, Bronchitis, Asthma and Pulmonary Consumption in its first and second stages. Also many other complaints of the throat, both tune tonal and organic, and of all the diseases for which we recommend the water, using all the modern appliances.

REGULAR SANITARIUM.

We keep a regular Sanitarium during the winter months. Water has the same effects all seasons of the year.

SHIPPING WATER.

We are now shipping large quantities of the water, and it is giving general satisfaction. We deliver it at Morristown Depot in good iron hooped barrels at $5 per barrel.

Dr. Calhoun's Liver Pills.

I AM engaged in the Manufacture of the Celebrated Family Medicine, Known as the Calhoun Liver and Anti-Bilious Pills, under the supervision and assistance of Dr. Calhoun himself. This Pill has been in use for the last thirty-five years, and has taken precedence over all other Family Preparations, by all that have used them. Thousands would certify to their great value if necessary. One fact could supersede any amount of certificates, and that fact is this: Dr. Calhoun has been physician to the Fulton County Prison for over seven years, when the number of prisoners ranged from 50 to 70, laboring under all the diseases incident to this climate. With but few exceptions, they have all been treated with this Pill, and acknowledge to say during that long period, not a single case has occurred under his treatment. This fact is worth any amount of testimonials.

I am now prepared to fill orders from Druggists, Merchants and others. All orders sent me shall receive prompt attention. There is no case of FEVER, DYSPEPSIA, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, RHEUMATISM, CHOLERA MORBUS, BILLIOUSNESS and SICK HEADACHE, or other diseases of a Southern climate, but yields readily to this preparation.

Price, 50 cents a Box.
